Investment Rationale

The fund provides exposure to consumer-related stocks with a broad definition, focusing on structural winners but with a balanced approach. The fund is focused on long-term growth trends, including in emerging markets (EM) so it is likely to lag when mark

Investment Philosophy

- Top-down identification of the trends and themes that offer the highest growth potential within the consumer universe such as demographic changes, changes in consumer behaviour based on technology, rise of middle class in EM, etc.
- Bottom-up stock selection seeking the best upside potential based on fundamental and quantitative research, valuation and technical analysis.
- The total exposure to consumer staples and consumer discretionary is at least 50% of the portfolio. The fund is also significantly biased towards large caps stocks with high growth characteristics.
- Active, research-driven portfolio of 50-55 stocks on average, with an average historical turnover of 30%.
- The fund invests in developed markets and EM to capture opportunities with a global perspective.

Fund Management Team

The fund is managed by Jack Neele and Richard Speetjens since end of 2010 and they are both fully dedicated to this fund. They are part of the Trends Investing team who gathers seven portfolio managers (PM) and three trend analysts. Stable and experienced

Strengths

- Flexible management: PMs actively managed the cyclical nature of the portfolio, shifting from defensive to more aggressive consumer spending themes according to the economic cycle.
- Diversified themes: the strategy invests in multiple long-term themes to provide diversification in portfolio construction and better risk/return profile compared to pure consumer-related funds.
- Broad mandate: the fund invests beyond the MSCI consumer GICS sectors, and it chases opportunities in sectors like IT, telcos and healthcare.
- Research and resources: the PMs have access to insights and research from other analysts covering the consumer-related sectors within Robeco, particularly EM, Asia Pacific, Global Equities teams. They leverage those inputs for idea generation and fundamental analysis.
- Quantitative tools: proven in-house models to support screening, fundamental decisions and valuation analysis.
- Performance: top quartile risk-adjusted returns despite a higher risk profile (volatility, max drawdown, high growth and EM biased). The fund outperformed consistently its peer-group in the last 5 calendar years except for 2016.

Weaknesses

- Portfolio biases: the fund exhibits biased towards cyclical growth through consumer-related stocks and EM exposure resulting in higher risk profile.
